I have put together basic content that could end up on the final poster. Going off of the previous semesters posters, I have put together a basic outline for the poster content. We are going to meet edit/add possible information. The image of the System Overview (Block Diagram) is the main part that needs work. The one I came up with is a block diagram of different parts of our design instead of a Behavioral Model.

Also I will be working on the written portion of the power supply.
